

Are you tired of using the same old manual therapy techniques or home exercise programs for your patients and still not seeing better results? Looking to infuse your practice with something new, yet evidence-based and reimbursable? Look no further than the ancient art form of Tai Chi.

Tai Chi combines gentle and adaptable exercises you can easily use with your clients for a variety of benefits, such as:

- ✓ Improve flexibility and balance to prevent falls
- ✓ Reduce stress and anxiety
- ✓ Strengthen cardiovascular system
- ✓ Decrease chronic pain
- ✓ Recover from injuries and surgeries faster

In addition, the evidence behind Tai Chi offers you reimbursable justification for using this ancient form in your client's rehabilitation.

With pre-workshop study and showing competency at the end of 3 days, you are eligible for certification as a Tai Chi for Arthritis and Fall Prevention instructor through the Tai Chi for Health Institute. Your course presenter has trained extensively with Dr. Paul Lam and risen to Master Trainer status, providing you the research, benefits and most importantly, movements of Tai Chi to incorporate into any patient's treatment plans. Adding this reimbursable therapy to your toolbox will immediately enable you to provide an additional modality to enhance patients' stability, flexibility, posture, balance and coordination.

No experience with Tai Chi is required, as your instructor will teach you the movements step-by-step to ensure you can safely and properly teach others.

In addition, these 3-days will bring an inner calmness to your life, restoring you mentally and physically so that you can be the best therapist your patients need.

Register for your spot to join the growing movement of Tai Chi certified instructors and be recognized in your community as an authority in the benefits of Tai Chi.

Speaker

RALPH DEHNER, COTA, CPT, is the director and program coordinator of the Mighty Vine Wellness Club, a nonprofit wellness center serving the mental health community. As a Certified Occupational Therapy Assistant (COTA) and a Certified Personal Trainer (CPT), his clinical experience includes rehabilitation and injury prevention through behavior modification, exercise, work simplification, and functional activity. Mr. Dehner started studying internal martial arts in the early 1970s and is a Certified Master/Trainer for Dr. Paul Lam's Tai Chi for health programs in the USA. In addition, he is certified as an instructor for such courses as Tai Chi for Arthritis and Fall Prevention, Tai Chi for Diabetes, Tai Chi for Osteoporosis, Tai Chi for Back Pain, and Tai Chi for Balance. Mr. Dehner has taught both Qi Gong and Tai Chi in hospitals, cancer centers, nursing homes, senior centers, integrative medicine centers, and mental health facilities. In conjunction with his vast experience, he has presented several conferences, such as the National Autism Conference, Ehlers-Danlos Syndrome Conference, the Inaugural International Tai Chi for Health Conference (Seoul, So. Korea). Mr. Dehner is also an experienced program developer who has produced and presented training courses on such topics as fall prevention, Tai Chi for OTs, and integrative medicine in mental health. He received his BS in holistic studies with a concentration in Wellness Management from Union Institute and University. Mr. Dehner is a member of the American Occupational Therapy Association, American Council on Exercise, International Association of Reiki, and Tai Chi for Health Community of America.
