Objectives

1. Differentiate between the processes for voluntary, involuntary and emergency admission for treatment and determine the clinician's role in each.

2. Articulate the exceptions to an individual's rights to refuse mental health treatment.

3. Describe the reporting and notification process, including when, who, how and what to report with respect to abuse and neglect.
4. Compare the different requirements for release of protected health information via with subpoenas and court orders.

5. Describe why and how psychotherapy notes are protected differently than general medical records.

6. Cite at least two differences between Texas privacy laws and HIPAA and examine how the implications of this impacts your clinical practice.

As a mental health professional, you not only deal with critical clinical matters with your clients – you must also stay on top of seemingly ever-changing laws and procedures. Keeping up-to-date is essential in order to protect your clients and yourself. At this comprehensive one-day seminar you will gain an understanding of involuntary commitment processes, guardianship and alternatives to guardianship, rights of individuals in institutions, privacy/confidentiality of mental health records and much more, that will help you stay on top of issues that arise in everyday clinical situations.

Texas Mental Health and the Law taught by Texas Experts!

Speakers

COTY MEIBEYER, JD, is an advocate supervisor at Disability Rights Texas, the federally-mandated protection & advocacy organization for individuals with disabilities in Texas. At DRTx, Coty works with clients with mental illness and intellectual disabilities on community integration and investigating rights violations, abuse, and neglect. Ms. Meibeyer supervises advocates who monitor State supported living centers, State hospitals, private psych hospitals, and jails, and she also has her own active case load. Previously, Coty was a death penalty defense lawyer and mitigation specialist, and before coming to Texas, she was a public defender in rural Kentucky. She graduated from Pomona College and the University of Michigan Law School.

Speaker Disclosure:
Financial: Coty Meibeyer has an employment relationship with Disability Rights Texas.
Non-financial: Coty Meibeyer has no relevant non-financial relationship to disclose.

JEFFERY P. DRUMMOND, ESQUIRE, is a healthcare law partner in the Dallas office of Jackson Walker, LLP. His areas of expertise include representing hospitals and health systems, physicians and physician groups and other ancillary providers in transactional and regulatory matters. He advises clients regarding compliance with pharmaceutical, tax and health care laws and regulations, including medical record privacy and security, HIPAA, and cybersecurity issues. Mr. Drummond is a frequent speaker on those issues and maintains a blog on HIPAA matters at www.hipaablog.blogspot.com. Mr. Drummond is also an adjunct professor of Healthcare Law and Policy at The University of Texas at Dallas.

Speaker Disclosure:
Financial: Jeffery Drummond is a partner for Jackson Walker, LLP.
Non-financial: Jeffery Drummond has no relevant non-financial relationship to disclose.
