

CERTIFIED ADDICTIONS-INFORMED MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONAL (CAIMHP)

Two-Day Intensive Competency Training

America is facing an epidemic of substance misuse, but there's a major obstacle to getting people the help they need: There's simultaneously a nationwide lack of training in addiction treatment for professionals and a massive need for people with this training. These problems are severe; many future mental health providers are graduating without ever completing a single course in substance abuse treatment.

But substance abuse is very much part of the real world of mental health treatment—even if that's not why your clients came into your office. Be prepared to recognize substance use and get your clients the help they need.

Join me, Paul Brasler, LCSW, and I'll walk you through numerous proven strategies and interventions that you need to effectively recognize and treat substance use disorders.

Attend this program, and through a combination of the latest addiction research and clear examples of treatment, you'll learn:

- How to differentiate between casual misuse and addiction
- Who you should treat and when you should refer out
- Techniques to improve client engagement and treatment compliance
- How to modify your interventions for use with special clinical populations, including veterans

In addition, completion of this course meets ALL the educational requirements, should you choose to apply to become a Certified Addictions-Informed Mental Health Professional (CAIMHP) through the Institute of Certified Addictions-Informed Professionals (ICAIP).

To learn more about how you can apply for ICAIP certification and distinguish yourself from other professionals, visit www.addictionspro.com.

Objectives

1. Appraise the causes of substance use disorders & factors that reinforce drug use as related to case conceptualization.
2. Analyze the basic neurobiology of addictive chemicals and its treatment implications.
3. Categorize commonly misused drugs, including current "street names" of these substances, as related to assessment and treatment planning.
4. Assess the signs and symptoms of substance intoxication and distinguish withdrawal syndromes for each drug class as related to case conceptualization.
5. Perform a clinical assessment to distinguish substance use disorders from other mental health disorders and inform the clinician's choice of treatment interventions.
6. Analyze the various levels of substance use treatment, including medication-assisted therapies, to inform clinical treatment interventions.
7. Evaluate the process of detoxification and its treatment implications.
8. Utilize clinical strategies, such as motivational interviewing, to improve client engagement and foster behavioral change.
9. Modify clinical interventions for use with clients in special populations, such as adolescents or pregnant women.
10. Utilize clinical strategies to engage the client's family in treatment to improve treatment outcomes.
11. Demonstrate strategies used to improve the efficacy of group therapy, such as strategies for addressing disruptive members and building group cohesion.
12. Evaluate ethical and legal issues related to substance use and substance use treatment, including circumstances when you should disclose client records.

Speaker

Paul Brasler, MA, LCSW, has worked in the social work field for the past 22 years. He is the head of behavioral health for Daily Planet Health Services, a Federally Qualified Health Center that provides comprehensive and integrated healthcare and mental health services (including medication-assisted opioid treatment). Paul is also president of Providence Consulting & Education, L.L.C., through which he provides clinical supervision and professional education services.

Paul has extensive experience in working with people with substance use disorders. After finishing school, Paul went to work at an adolescent residential treatment program, where he developed a treatment track for adolescents with substance use disorders. In 2003, he became a senior clinician in the Chesterfield Country Juvenile Drug Court and provided individual, family, adolescent group and multifamily group therapies. After working at the drug court for seven years, Paul moved on to conduct psychiatric and substance misuse evaluations in emergency departments in the Greater Richmond, Virginia area. Paul has also served as adjunct faculty in the school of social work at Virginia Commonwealth University, where he developed a graduate course in substance abuse treatment.

Paul has been a PESI presenter since 2016, and he has presented classes on mental health emergencies and high-risk clients across the county. He recently released his first book, High-Risk Clients: Evidence-Based Assessment & Clinical Tools to Recognize and Effectively Respond to Mental Health Crises (PESI Publishing; 2019).

Speaker Disclosures:

Financial: Paul Brasler is in private practice. He receives a speaking honorarium from PESI, Inc.

Non-financial: Paul Brasler has no relevant non-financial relationship to disclose.

High Risk Clients

Evidence-based Assessment & Clinical Tools to Recognize and Effectively Respond to Mental Health Crises

By Paul Brasler, MA, MSW, LCSW - Seminar Presenter!

Crises are never scheduled, convenient or easy. But they happen, and you need the best tools at your disposal to navigate any situation you face. High Risk Clients provides a comprehensive and concise resource that you will turn to time after time to effectively intervene and keep clients safe.

Co-Occurring Disorders

Integrated Assessment and Treatment of Substance Use and Mental Disorders

By Charles Atkins, MD

A practical, step-by-step guide with diverse case studies gives you the tools to improve your clinical outcomes. Ideal for both the rubber-meets-the-road clinician, who wants effective strategies and a clear direction for treatment and recovery, and the administrator who creates interventions at the system level with attention to regulatory and reimbursement demands.
