Tech Addiction & Digital Health in Children, Adolescents & Young Adults

Level 1 Certification for Clinicians & Educators

We are on the verge of a global public health crisis—and the kids, teens and young adults you work with are at the greatest risk.

Young people are living their lives in front of a screen with disastrous results. ADHD, depression, suicidality, anxiety, sleep irregularities, thought disorders, and stunted social skills are rising dramatically. But whether you're a mental health professional or school-based professional the resources available have lacked the concrete strategies and real-life interventions you need to effectively intervene in this growing epidemic.

Dr. Nicholas Kardaras is an internationally renowned expert on tech addiction, author of the best-selling book Glow Kids, and founder and chief clinical officer of Maui Recovery in Hawaii, Omega Recovery in Austin and the Launch House in New York.

Join him at this Certification training and get the most effective tools, strategies and techniques you need to help children, adolescents, young adults and families hijacked by technology addiction and overuse.

- Attend and discover:
- Clinical and school-based interventions for problem screen usage
  - Safe and effective strategies to work with kids hijacked by tech addiction
  - How family dynamics relate to problematic digital behaviors – and what you can do about it
  - Proven interventions to reduce video gaming, social media, and You Tube obsessions
  - Strategies to improve digital boundaries and discipline
