Engaging and Powerful Techniques for the Treatment of Disruptive Behavior Disorders and Trauma

Childhood Disruptive Behavior Disorders are on the rise! Tantrums, anger, defiance, threatening behavior...

How can we as therapists more effectively decrease acting-out behaviors and help repair, rebuild and create strong parent-child relationships?

Join me, Clair Mellenthin, expert in child and family trauma and attachment, as we dive into the impact of Oppositional Defiant Disorder and Conduct Disorder on children, teens, and their families. You'll learn effective, powerful, evidence-based play therapy interventions including guided imagery, mindfulness, expressive arts, and sandtray play—all of which include parent-child relationship enhancement activities.

This workshop will show you how:

- the impact of attachment plays a role in the etiology of childhood disruptive behavior disorders
- to utilize attachment-centered play therapy techniques to treat these diagnoses in children
- to strengthen parent-child relationships
- to improve overall self-esteem and confidence—giving the child tools to control their challenging symptoms and help heal the family system.

Register today to explore the power of play therapy—and incorporate these strategies into your mental health practices with young clients and their families!

Target Audience:

Mental Health Clinicians • School Counselors • Psychologists • Physicians • Counselors
